

DAD/O

This will save the Government money. The deluxe jet polar flight costs $818.60, the conventional piston polar flight costs $1099.80 plus birth--the same as via New York. I understand that the reason the jet is cheaper is that International Airline agreements preclude lower rates on piston polar flights in competition with the London/New York/San Francisco route.

25X1A7b

Chief,

10 Aug

K

X